PUTNAM COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION AT FILLMORE ON SUNDAY WAS WELL ATTENDED.

A SPLENDID PROGRAM

The Putnam County Sunday School Convention was held in the Fillmore M. E. Church Sunday with an all day session and a large crowd. Standing room was at a premium in the afternoon. Township presidents reported in the morning. There are now fifty-one Sunday Schools in the county. Rev. Mr. Imier, of the M. E. Church, spoke upon the work for the youngest people in the school dwelling especially on the cradle roll.

Miss Martha Ridpath read a very fine paper upon "The Teachers' Business." A fine dinner was served at the noon hour.

In the afternoon session Rev. Mr. Davison, of the Christian Church, spoke upon "The Sunday School as a Religious Factor." He emphasized the importance of the Sunday School as an agency for evangelistic work and as a recruiting ground for the church. It gives the Bible the chief place of honor. He gave a remarkable illustration of the influence of the Sunday School, in a frontier home in driving out evils and establishing churches. He urged upon church members their duty to stand by the Sunday School giving it their means, their attendance and influence.

Mr. C. D. Meigs, the well known Sunday school specialist, spoke upon the "Home Department," pointing out the many great things it will do. One point was "the home department stands for the supreme thing the Sunday School stands for, Bible study and it will mean Bible study in the home."

Judge J. W. Rawley gave a most helpful talk upon the importance of seeking the development of the spiritual nature of the child. He also urged the duty of attendance by the older people at Sunday School that they may guide and influence the boys and girls.

After the addresses the new officers were elected and installed as follows:

President, O. L. Jones, Greencastle.

Superintendent Teacher Training, Albert Burnside, Greencastle. Superintendent Home Department, Lawrence Hurst, Coatesville. Good music characterized the program. A quartet sang in the afternoon. Solos were rendered by Misses Ona Knetzer and Alice Cooper. A bright little duet was sung by John and Mabel Branham, and a recitation was given by Miss Blanche Haircourt.

ARM CUT OFF LAD WALKS HOME

HARVE AYERS, 16 YEARS OLD, IS BADLY INJURED THURSDAY BY MONON ENGINE AT ROACHDALE.

WATCHING ANOTHER ENGINE

His left arm cut off above the elbow by a Monon engine which had backed down on him, Harve Ayers, of Roachdale, aged 16 years old, picked up his hat with his right hand and walked to his home, 100 yards from the tracks.

The lad had been up to the Roachdale Oil Station and was walking home along the Monon tracks when the accident occurred. There were two trains on the tracks and he was watching one of them when the engine of the other train backed down on him.

As the engine struck him he fell forward, his left arm falling on the track. The engine passed over his arm and cut it squarely off at the shoulder. His head, also was badly cut.

The lad arose, picked up his hat which had been knocked off and walked to his home about 100 yards from where the accident occurred.

Dr. Stroube was immediately called and attended the injured lad. Today he is reported as getting along nicely. The accident occurred Wednesday afternoon.

DYNAMITE FISH—FNE $250

George W. Miles, state fish and game commissioner wishes every man in the state to know that the minimum fine for dynamiting fish in streams or lakes is $250 and costs.

"Few people," said Mr. Miles "have any idea that the penalty for this offense is so severe. For the violator of the fish and game law it is none too severe, but I should feel mighty sorry for the farmer boy, who, not knowing how serious a predicament he was getting into, throws a stick of dynamite into a creek and as a result finds himself in jail for the greater part of a year, or, if he pays his fine, the greater part of his profits for a year go to pay for a few minutes fun."

"The law against dynamiters will be enforced to the letter, and the proper way to avoid paying a stiff fine for dynamiting is not to dynamite. Most boys in the country do not know the severe penalties for violating the fish and game laws but they ought to know them. It is a pretty hard matter for one thus flagrantly violating the fish and game laws to escape detection with the force of deputies we now have in the field constantly on the alert, and the people of the state joining with us in an effort to prevent violations."

F. C. TILDEN IS BADLY BURNED WHILE GETTING TWO HORSES OUT OF BURNING BUILDING—INJURIES NOT SERIOUS.

FIRE DEPARTMENT SLOW

Two barns were destroyed and F. C. Tilden was badly burned in a conflagration of unknown origin, Friday morning. Mr. Tilden was badly burned on the head, back and arms while getting two horses from his burning barn. His burns, although very painful, are not serious.

Beside the Tilden barn the barn on the John Robe property, which is occupied by Walter Cooper, also was totally destroyed. The two barns were only a few feet apart.

The fire was discovered by Mr. Tilden at near 5:30 o'clock in the morning when he was awakened by the noise made by his horses. He hurriedly went to the barn and found it to be in a mass of flames. Rushing in he untied the two horses and managed to get them out before they were badly burned. In doing so, however, he was badly burned himself.

The fire soon spread to the Cooper barn but Mr. Cooper's horse and buggy were gotten out before they were injured.

Although a telephone call was sent to the fire department as soon as the fire was discovered the department was very slow in reaching the scene of the fire. Both barns were totally destroyed before the firemen arrived. The loss on the barns will amount to several hundred dollars.

YOUNG BOY FINDS DEATH UNDER HOOPS OF COLT

Series of Accidents Befall Family of Wm. Kinsey Following Lad's Fatal Injuries.

Rockville, Ind., Aug. 13—Yesterday shortly after the noon hour Emmett Kinsey, 13-year-old son of William Kinsey, near Ferndale, Parke county, near the Putnam county line, was thrown from a young colt he had just mounted, and tramped upon, crushing his ribs and causing internal injuries from which he died in a short time. Funeral was held at Otterbein church at 10 o'clock Saturday. Burial at the Blake cemetery.

Following the accident to the Kinsey lad Mrs. Martin, a friend of the family, drove up in front of the house, where the buggy was upset, throwing Mrs. Martin out and dislocating her hip. Later, as the family was seated at the supper table, a son-in-law overturned a cup of hot coffee, scalding a baby sitting on his lap and badly burning the man's leg.

MARRIAGE OF E. C. WATSON AND EDNA WOLFENBERGER

A very pretty informal wedding occurred this morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Burnside, when Miss Edna Katherine Wolfenberger and E. C. Watson, formerly DePauw students and members of the class of 1906, were married.

The home was tastefully decorated with Smilax and sweet peas covered the grill between the two parlors. Hearts and asters made the library beautiful. Nasturtiums were used in the dining room where the beautiful wedding presents were displayed.

The bride and groom entered the parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, walking between ropes of smilax carried by eight girls. Dr. H. A. Gobin performed a beautiful ceremony in an impressive manner.

The bride carried a shower bouquet of asters. Her dress was a beautiful white gown of lace and embroidery. Mr. and Mrs. Watson will be at home at Lafayette, Ind., after Sept. 1.

HEADY REUNION.

The second annual reunion of the Irmi Heady's ancestors was held in W. A. Carver's grove near Fillmore on August 14, 1910. During the morning about seventy-five relatives gathered to spend the day together. At the noon hour a bountiful dinner was spread and everybody did themselves justice.

After the dinner was over the meeting was called to order by the president W. A. Carver. The report of the previous year meeting was read by the secretary Miss Edith Frakes, after which short talks were made by several members of the family. The officers elected for the ensuing year were: W. A. Carver, President; A. L. Heady, Vice President, and Mrs. Gertrude Keyt, Secretary. The 3rd Sunday in August, 1911, was set for the time of the next meeting.

FARM HAND IS BADLY INJURED

BUMBLE BEES SCARE HORSES

His horses scaring when attacked by bumble bees, George Templeton, a farm hand employed by J. R. King, at the latter's farm 2 miles south of Fern, was thrown in front of a mower and badly injured Friday morning. Both of his arms were so badly cut that amputation may be necessary.

Templeton was mowing weeds in a pasture when he drove his machine over a bumble bee nest. The bees began to sting the horses scaring them. The team turned quickly throwing the driver from his seat.

He fell to one side of the moving machine but his arms fell in front of the blade and were literally chewed up. Dr. Jerome King was called and dressed the wounds. He states that he believes the man's arms can be saved although if the wounds do not heal properly amputation may become necessary. Templeton is a married man having a wife and several children.

WOOD REUNION.

The Wood reunion, which was held Wednesday, Aug. 10 at the home of Wm. Dills, northeast of town was well attended, about one hundred of the family being present. The morning was spent in talking over old times and renewing old acquaintances. At noon a bountiful lunch was served.

Immediately after uncheon the business meeting was called by President Dudley Wood and the minutes of the last meeting were read by Secretary W. F. Wood. The report showed four deaths and two births in the family during the past year. Next was the election of officers for the ensuing year. The officers elected were President, Chas. Wood; Vice President, Mrs. Ella Thomas; Treasurer, Mrs. David Houck, and Secretary, N. F. Wood.

KITCHEN CABINET PLANT TO MOVE

FRANK COSS STATES THAT MARTINSVILLE HAS OFFERED A BONUS OF $17,000—AND TWO ACRES OF GROUND.

MAY CAUSE LEGAL TANGLE

Frank Coss, president of the Greencastle Kitchen Cabinet Factory, has announced that Martinsville had offered the company a bonus of $17,000 and two acres of ground and that the factory would be moved to Martinsville this winter. He stated that the plant would be ready for operation in Martinsville by the early part of the year.

The announcement of Mr. Coss follows much dickering between the local Commercial Club and the Kitchen Cabinet Factory officials. The Kitchen Cabinet Factory wanted an additional bonus from the Greencastle Commercial Club which the club refused to give.

When the factory was located here the Commercial Club bought the old Ireland Mill and gave it and $2,000 in cash to the company, with the understanding that the factory was to run four years.

As soon as the factory had run the required four years there was an additional demand for a bonus and because the Commercial Club refused to grant the latter request the company decided to move to Martinsville. Officials of the Commercial Club state that the agreement under which the factory accepted the first bonus virtually binds it to remain here and that legal steps will be taken to prevent it from moving the plant away.

DEATH OF MISS LIZZIE WALLS

The death of Miss Lizzie Walls, aged 30 years, daughter of Edward McG. Walls occurred Wednesday morning at near 11 o'clock at the Dr. Rannels hospital in Indianapolis, after an illness of a little more than two weeks.

The death of Miss Walls followed two operations lately performed in the hospital in Indianapolis. Two weeks ago last Monday she was operated upon for appendicitis and was getting along nicely, when it became necessary to operate for gall stones. The latter operation was performed last Thursday and the patient has been in a very critical condition ever since.

LOCKRIDGE REUNION HELD TUESDAY.

The reunion of one of the oldest families in this part of the country was that of the Lockridge family, held at the home of the late Robt. Z. Lockridge, near Roachdale, Tuesday. The reunion was well attended and was a success in every way. It was held in honor of the 85th birthday anniversary of Mrs. Dulcena Lockridge Ashby, of Ladoga, who is one of the oldest living descendants of the Lockridge family.

There were several speeches by members of the family and the day was spent in a most enjoyable manner. While this has not been an annual affair, it was voted to be one in the future. The next reunion will probably be held at the same place.

Miss Emma Kessler, of Veedersburg, is visiting here.

Mrs. Sylvan Weaver, while coming down to Greencastle on the Monon railroad yesterday, fell over a telescope sitting in the aisle in the car, and sustained a broken jaw bone. She was placed on a traction car at Greencastle and brought to the home of her brother, G. K. Dickson, in this city, where the broken bone was set by Dr. Baker—Brazil Times.

GOT $82 FROM THE BUNCH

Three of the Greencastle Knights Templar, who attended the Conclave in Chicago this week, were the victims of a hotel thief. Arthur Hamrick and Frank Allen are each losers to the extent of $40 and E. B. Lynch is loser to the extent of two $1 bills.

These three men, together with C. L. Cohn, of Indianapolis, had a room together in the Saratoga Hotel. The night that they were robbed Mr. Cohn arose at about 5 o'clock in the morning and left the room. He neglected to lock the door as he left and it is believed that the thief entered the room soon after Mr. Cohn left it.

The thief went through the pockets of all of the clothes in the room getting $40 from Mr. Hamrick's pocketbook and $40 from Frank Allen's clothes. Mr. Lynch had placed his pocketbook under his pillow when he retired and so his loss was small, being confined to two $1 bills which he had left in his pocket. Nothing but the money was taken by the thief.

NOW TRY FALL SEEDING CLOVER

NEW METHOD OF SECURING STAND OF LEGUMINOUS CROP BY PUTNAM COUNTY FARMERS.

SEEDING IN CORN FIELDS

Clover is the standard fertilizer of Putnam county farms. Any one who doubts this statement has only to look over the farms of the county and note the number of acres devoted to that crop to realize its truth.

But there is something new even for the users of clover. The latest thing is the fall seeding of the crop. Heretofore farmers have waited till spring, and in March or April broadcasted the seed upon the ground sown the previous fall to wheat, or sowed it with oats at the time of oat sowing. More or less stands of clover have resulted from this method, depending upon whether the summer was dry or reasonably wet.

The latest thing is to seed in the fall instead of spring. Farmers are sowing the clover in the corn fields at the last plowing of the corn and depending upon the shade of the stalks to act as a nurse crop through the hot weather of July and August. The seed is broadcasted at the last plowing and the ground being rough the first rain covers the seed. In some instances it has been sowed ahead of the plows and was covered by them.

In one or two instances clover is being sowed in the fall upon land from which a crop of oats or wheat has been cut. The land is plowed, rolled and harrowed fine, and the seed broadcasted and harrowed in. The fine seed bed is said to hold enough moisture to start the clover and the deep soil lets the root go down deep quickly.

All this is in the experimental stage, however, and next spring will tell the true results of the new methods of seeding. If it succeeds the sowers of clover now will cut a crop of hay in June. If it does not succeed they will be out their seed.

It acts directly on the organs affected and is at the same time a general restorative tonic for the whole system. It cures female complaint right in the privacy of home. It makes unnecessary the disagreeable questioning, examinations and local treatment so universally insisted upon by doctors, and so abhorrent to every modest woman.

Is Your Buggy Worn and Dingy

Are you considering the purchase of a new buggy to take its place?

You don't buy a buggy every week so when you do get one it will pay you to get a good one.

Do you find it hard to make a choice?

All look pretty much alike when they are new, don't they?

Best way to do is to buy a buggy made by a firm you know never turns out anything but reliable goods. If you buy a

Several Putnam county young men have been misled by the agent.

ISAAC WAGGONER

OFFICER GABBART HAS BATTLE WITH BIG FISH

In the death of Isaac Waggoner one of Greencastle's oldest and most honorable citizens passed away Tuesday morning after a few days' illness. Mr. Waggoner was the last of the early residents of Greencastle whose names are identified with the early development and growth of our city. Isaac Waggoner came from an old Colonial family, his father having been born at York and his mother at Gettysburg, Pa. Soon after their marriage his parents moved to the state of Ohio and settled on a farm in Stark county near Canton. Here on December 15th, 1820 Isaac was born.

Opportunity was given for only a limited education until the age of fourteen, when he left the farm to learn a trade with his uncle. At the age of twenty he married Lydia Adeline Alexander, of Knox county. To this union were born four children, Charles O., Sarah E., Francis I. and Ella A. Sarah died in infancy.

In 1848 Mr. and Mrs. Waggoner joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. In 1852 Mr. Waggoner moved with his family to Lima, Ohio and in 1855 to this city where he has resided ever since.

Upon coming to Greencastle he took up the hardware business and for many years conducted it in a frame building where the 5 and 10 cent store is now operated. Later the frame building was torn down and Mr. Waggoner built the structure which now stands upon the site. Mr. Waggoner's home was for many years on the site of the present interurban station. The weeping willow tree which still stands on the lot was planted as a twig by Mr. Waggoner thirty-five years ago. Owing to advanced years he retired from business in 1879.

He is survived by three children, Charles Waggoner and Mrs. E. Shipley of this city, Mrs. Samuel Fleming, of Terre Haute, and three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Fish Broke His Wife's Fishing Line and Bob Jumped into the River and After Hard Tussle Succeeded in Landing the Big Fellow.

Policeman Robert Gabbart has a good stock of fish stories as the result of his fishing trip to Eel River last week. Bob and his family have been camping on Eel river near Reelsville and returned home Saturday as Bob was compelled to return to duty before his ten days' vacation was over on account of Chief of Police Brown being called away on business.

Bob was telling some of his fish stories down at headquarters this morning and one of them was a dinger. Bob says that his wife was fishing one day when she hooked a fish so long that it broke the line. Determined not to lose the prize Bob jumped into the river after the fish and after a hard struggle succeeded in landing the big fellow. Bob says the fish was fully two feet long but some of the police insist that it weighed 85 pounds. However, Bob refused to back up this statement which shows that he is modest with his fish stories. Brazil News.

FLORENCE AND NORTH ITALY

ART AND POVERTY OF ITALY AND THE ECONOMY OF HARVEST AND GRAIN GATHERING.

ITALY HOME OF ARTISTS

Florence Italy, July 7.—We have shaken the dust of Rome from our feet, passing three days there on return from Naples were fairly busy days devoted to seeing what we were most interested in that we had not tackled before. To scene up Rome and Naples and their surroundings would be to say that we saw oodles of the truly antique, we saw sculpture painting till they lost their attractiveness—saw Madonnas of all conceivable sorts by all sorts of artists, we saw representatives of the Christ, by artists great, greater and greatest; at the Last Supper, nailed to the cross, taken from the cross, the resurrection, the ascension, etc., we saw John the Baptist with his head and without it, as created by painters of hundreds of years ago; we saw St. Stephen stoned in all sorts of ways and in divers situations; we saw St. Sebastian pierced with arrows, saw etc., etc. We saw in statuary Venus, Minerva, Ceres Juno, Jupiter, Appolo, Moses, David, Gladiators, Dying Gauls, Marble Fauns, Romulus and Remus and the Wolf foster, mother, until one honed for a change something more modern and up-to-date. We saw fountains and columns, and shrines so numerous that our memory fails to place them and name them. We saw the masses—men, women, and children living in filth, seemingly devoid of all modesty and the finer feelings now a days attributed to humanity and we saw in these same people much that is commendable possibly the real result of necessity. For instance, in the country, at harvest, you see men, women and boys and girls at work. Mothers who have nursing babies and small children deposit them in the shade of a tree or a stack of grain or hay, and go on with their work unhindered by family cares. In harvesting the grain economy and thrift is shown. First the grain is cut with a sickle, leaving the straw standing about 12 or 14 inches high; children follow the reapers and gather every head of grain that the reapers miss, and then women follow and bind the cut grain into bundles. These bundles are piled up in the smallest space possible and then men with scythes follow and cut the standing straw close to the ground and it is raked up, hauled to the barn and stored away for food. This is a description of the way wheat, oats and rye are harvested, and aptly illustrates their mode of farming—no waste of any sort is allowed. The farms are without fences, and the stock is herded in the pastures by boys and girls—they herd their sheep, the hogs, the ducks and geese, cattle, horses, donkeys, etc. The best, that is to say the heaviest and luxuriant alfalfa I have ever seen is grown on many of the mountain sides and hill sides of Italy, and this of course, without irrigation. Talking with a gentleman yesterday in regard to the poverty of the under classes of Italy, he said it was their own fault, or as he put it: "The sun is too hot in Italy, and the people won't work if they have a little money in their pockets."

Passing along the street a few days ago we saw a woman out on the sidewalk giving her baby a needed bath, and a few doors away was another woman sitting on the sidewalk with a child's head between her knees and she was doing a strenuous and artistic job with a fine tooth comb and from her actions she was getting results. Art appeals to the Italian of all classes, from youth up. The other day, in passing through one of the art galleries, we saw a little girl fourteen years of age, copying one of the masterpieces of the gallery on ivory. We stopped and talked to her and learned that she was selling much of her work and that she was doing miniature work on ivory for many people. Italian boys of well to do parents seem to take to two avocations—the army and the priesthood; indeed we have been told time and time again that every Italian mother strives from the time her son is born to induce him to take holy orders and failing in that to make him an officer in the army. The sons of parents not so well off in the world's goods seem to take to guide business, or, as they like to be called, "couriers," and they acquire knowledge in this special line. They are well posted in ancient Roman and Greek history, in the legends and myths of the Romans, in the early history of the church, etc., and the names and works of the masters in painting and sculpture of all time roll off their tongues as glibly as water from a duck's tail.

The changes time works are well marked in Naples and Rome. The hotel we stopped at on our last visit to Rome is a portion of a Ducal Palace; the entire structure contains over a thousand rooms; the Duke is poor, and contrary to custom he married a poor girl and she is an American. To keep the wolf from his door he rents a large portion of the palace to tenants for business purposes, and our hotel consisted of over one hundred of these rooms. The same is practically true of the hotel we patronized in Naples; it was formerly a palace owned by a scion of the Royal family who became too poor to maintain it. The hotels located as here indicated generally have a large amount of very rich furniture; stuff that would be considered invaluable by the people of America. A peculiarity of all the Palaces in that on the outside they are shabby and positively hideous in appearance, and many of them are what might be termed the impossible from the stand point of good looks, but inside they are indeed in truth palatial—they are treasure houses of art in all lines. Every night a bunch of young Italians serenade the guests at the hotel; they use stringed instruments to accompany their sweet voices in popular Italian melodies, and the shower of copper and silver that is tossed them seems to amply repay them for the rich musical treat furnished in the main to American and English guests at the hotel. By the way, our hotel in Florence has been the headquarters for many years of artists and art students and the walls of the public rooms are covered with samples of their work rich in technique and color.

The people of Florence are all "puffed up" because they are Florentines; they look down with the most supreme contempt upon the Italians of Rome and Naples and all the denizens of Italy south of them. They hold that in art and letters the city compares only with Athens, except that Athens is a ruin and a relic of the past, while Florence of today vies with Florence of long past centuries in literature, music and art. Florence gave birth to Dante, to Michael Angelo, del Sarto, Galileo, Petrarch and many other celebrities of olden times and the places of their abode are pointed out to you.

In doing Florence in a short time much of interest is missed, but it cannot be helped. In our wanderings about the place we saw the spot, in the Vecchio Square where Savonarola and two other monks were burned here in 1498 for daring to have the courage to say publicly what they believed and stand by their words and belief. In Florence Elizabeth Barrett Browning resided for a number of years, here she wrote much of her best and here she died and was buried. Theodore Parker died and is buried here. In the great Pitti and Offiza Art galleries—much of the great work of Raphael Michael, Angelo, Titian, Correggio, del Sarto, and others is seen—critics aver that Florence holds, in more great work of great artists than any other city in the world, and I suppose they know—I am free to confess that I do not know. One of the curiosities of Florence is the Vecchio Bridge, a beautiful structure dating from 1345, it is of stone and has stood the wear and tear of ages remarkably well—the attraction of this bridge is that each side of it is lined with a row of jewelry stores; these contain millions of francs in gold, silver and precious stones, and the bridge is the mecca that attracts nearly all tourists to it. Mosals and Gamco are the specialties here, but there is also a large amount of gold and silver wrought into jewelry and table ware, one from here does a large quantity of work for Tiffany of New York in these latter lines.

One of the guides or "couriers" of Florence, who is well known to American tourists, possibly because he is a son of Hiram Powers, America's most noted sculptor has shown us over the city, and pointed out many of its beauty spots—he is thoroughly up on all art subjects and Florence history, hence is most excellent in his line of service. We speak of him, principally, as an example of the changes wrought by time. He was left a large fortune by his father, today he has to labor to live, having lost his inheritance by bad management, etc. Other of the "show places" in Florence are Santa Croce Church, where Galileo Dante, Michael Angelo, and many other noted Italians, are buried, the beautiful Cathedral, the Baptistery, with its bronze doors, one of which is held by Michael Angelo to be as worthy a place as "The Gate to Paradise." Another church of interest is St. Marco; it is the church of the Dominican Monastery and to the church belongs Fra Angelico, Savonarola and Fra Bartolomeo. F. A. A.

OFF TO TEXAS, TO TAKE DEPOSITIONS

ATTORNEYS REPRESENTING A. B. HANNA AND BUILDING MATERIAL CONCERNS START ON LONG TRIP.

LIENS FILED ON BUILDING

The filing of mechanic liens aggregating near $6,000 against the Andrew Hanna building by several firms and the filing of suits of foreclosure caused two of Greencastle's attorneys to leave for Farewell, Tex., to take the deposition of Jacob Tiefel, the contractor who builded the building.

The two attorneys who have gone to Texas are John H. James representing W. N. Halstead, of Brazil, who filed a lien of $2960 against the building, and F. Meyer, of Ft. Wayne, who filed a lien of $2451 against the building. Several other smaller liens also have been filed. Ben S. Corwin, the other attorney represents Mr. Hanna.

Jacob Tiefel, the contractor who builded the Hanna-Prevo building lived at Brazil at the time the building was constructed. Soon after completing the work he moved to Farewell, which is near the New Mexico line.

There were no liens filed against the Prevo building, the contractor having paid for all materials used in the construction of his portion of the building.

It seems, however, that he failed to pay for nearly $6,000 worth of material used in the Hanna part of the building and the firms which furnished this material filed liens against the building. According to the law the owner is forced to pay these bills if the contractor does not do so.

Mr. Hanna, it is said, has a bond covering any loss he might incur because of the contractor not paying for all materials used in his building.

The attorneys go to Texas to get a disposition from the contractor which will show just where the unpaid for materials were used. Mr. Corwin left Monday noon, while Mr. James left today at noon for Texas.

OUR ROADS.

The repair of our country roads is now costing us about $35,000 per year. It will not be long before these roads and the additional ones now building and to be built will cost us $50,000 a year. It would naturally be supposed that each tax payer in the county and each user of the roads would reduce the cost of road repair or make it possible to make better roads with the same money. It has been demonstrated that some very simple implements and a very little time and money are vast helps to road construction and vast reducers of cost. That is, this has been demonstrated to the satisfaction of a great many people. An expert in road construction, D. Ward King, of the split-log-drag fame, will be in Indiana about September first and will deliver a number of lectures on road making and road repair. Why not get him to come to Putnam county. It would cost little and might save much. At least he has convinced the road makers of many states in the union that he can tell them something worth while. Why not have King here?

THE PIRATES' HEADQUARTERS

It is a fine gang of pirates, official and otherwise, that has had its headquarters at Washington. The country has been thoroughly informed as to the effort that is being made to steal all the rich coal and mineral lands in Alaska—lands that belong to the people of the United States—and now comes the revelation concerning the scheme to obtain from the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians 450,000 acres of coal and asphalt lands held by them in Oklahoma. As soon as the consent of congress could be obtained a New York syndicate was to take these lands at a small per cent of their real value, and out of this small per cent which the Indians were to get, $3,000,000 was to go to the promoters of the scheme. In order to get the consent of congress bribery was attempted, according to the testimony of Senator Gore. He was offered $25,000 at first and the offer was raised to $50,000. It was made, Senator Gore says, by Jacob Hammon, former Republican national committeeman from Oklahoma, who told the senator that Senator Curtis of Kansas and Vice President Sherman were interested in the success of the job. When Senator Gore heard the name of Sherman he declares that he was appalled when he read in a newspaper that Sherman and Curtis had called on the president recommending the general approval of the contracts to be made with the Indians when congress had given its assent to the spoliation. Affairs down at Washington seem to be rotten.

SAVES $2,000 FOR PEOPLE OF STATE

Robert J. Ale, Superintendent of Public Instruction, is a Business Man as Well.

BEST FORMER RECORD $3.40

Democratic State Official Also Assists School Teachers By New Department.

(Staff Correspondence.)

Indianapolis.—Robert J. Ale, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, will turn over to the state at the close of this year not less than $2,000 as profit from one department of his office.

The nearest approach to this record is $3.40—less than $4—which was the balance in the same fund under Dr. Ale's predecessor, in 1906.

The contrast is startling and is a complete answer to sly insinuations which have been made that Dr. Ale is so highly educated that he is without practical and business knowledge. These figures are taken from the records in the office of the Auditor of State and they speak for themselves. Dr. Ale has proved himself not only a man of immense value to the state through his educational ability, but as well, he has seen the opportunity to turn into the state $2,000 in one year from a source which has never, before his administration, yielded more than $3.40.

The department which Dr. Ale has thus made to accrue to the benefit of the people of Indiana is the examination department. It is provided by law that applicants for teachers' examinations may have their papers graded by the Superintendent of Public Instruction's office for a fee of $1, the license being good all over the state. Instead of sending these manuscripts out of the office to be graded, Dr. Ale instituted an expert system of grading in his own office. Applying business methods to this work, he has given better results in grading and has saved the state a substantial sum of money. In 1909 he turned in $1,143. The year preceding is the year of the historic $3.40. Before that there was nothing at all from this source.

Attorney-General's Trips.

Attorney-General Bingham, on the other hand, has aroused the criticism of lawyers who understand the situation by starting on another trip to New York at the expense of the people of Indiana. The criticism is directed at him because these trips are a needless expense.

Attorney-General Bingham is interested in defending the benzate of soda case in Federal Court here and during the progress of the case he has needed the depositions of witnesses living at a distance—some in New York and others in California. Depositions are in the form of a series of questions answered under oath, and are offered in court in manuscript form, the witness not being required to attend in person.

Now it is the custom of attorneys in their private practice to avoid a great deal of needless expense in obtaining depositions. If an Indianapolis attorney desires a deposition in New York, he prepares his questions and sends them to a reputable New York attorney, who sees that they are answered and sworn to. In this way the expense of the proceeding is nominal.

But Attorney-General Bingham goes about it in another way. He goes personally, or sends a deputy. Not only that, but they travel in pairs. The state pays their expenses from the moment they board a train in Indianapolis until they return to this city.

Governor Refuses Money.

Just recently application was made to Governor Marshall for $400 from his contingent emergency fund to be used to defray the expenses of a trip to Washington to secure the deposition of Dr. H. W. Wiley, U. S. Chemist, which was needed in the benzate of soda case. Governor Marshall said "no" emphatically. He suggested that the questions which were to be answered be prepared and sent to a reputable Washington attorney who would see that they were answered under oath.

"It's ridiculous and extravagant," said an attorney, referring to these trips of the attorney-general. "It costs money to travel to New York and California; it costs money to live in the fine hotels of New York for ten days at a time, and I'll bet he wouldn't do it if it were his own private business. No, he'd be looking after the pennies then, and he'd send the questions to some other lawyer to have them answered. But as long as the state pays the expenses, it's another matter."

This trip, which Attorney-General Bingham began last Thursday, is the fourth to New York. There was one very expensive trip to California for the same purpose. On the three other trips to New York the attorney-general or his deputy had a traveling companion and the state paid for both. The attorney-general desired a companion on this trip but the necessary money was denied him and he was compelled to take his summer jaunt alone.

FAIR'S DRAFT HORSES

Purple Bloods By Hundreds at the Indiana Exposition.

Heavy weight, or draft horses, the showy, purple-blooded kind of animals which always win enthusiastic admiration from visitors to the Indiana State Fair, will be in greater evidence than ever at the exposition to be held the week of September 12. As an importer and breeder of these horses, Indiana is in front rank, and while the show of draft horses has for years been a notable one at the fair, it promises to go well over the old standards for both quality and quantity. Indiana importers have for months been searching the horse markets and country districts of Europe for highly bred Percheron and French drafts, Clydesdales, Shires and Belgians, and before summer ends several hundreds of these animals will be shipped direct to Indiana and will make their first American appearance at the state fair. They will be the prize winners of Europe's horse shows and fairs and they will contest for ribbons each day in the state fair coliseum, will be conspicuous in the night shows and in the live stock day parades along the drives of the fair grounds.

In addition to the horses that are coming fresh from Europe, a large number of American bred draft animals will be at the fair. Showy teams of two four and six draft horses will be one of the admirable features of the live stock displays in the coliseum. The premiums on draft horses amount to $3,835, and a generous number of expensive silver cups, gold and silver medals and honor ribbons will be awarded.

The Hackneys, German, American and other coach horses, beautiful animals which win as much admiration as the drafts, will be strongly in evidence at the fair.

The whole family of blue-blooded horses is included in the state fair shows. Both day and night the arena will abound in spirited harness and saddle horses and all told 600 or more will be in the various show classes. Including the speed division, horses will dominate the state fair. For show horses the prizes amount to a total of $14,875 and in the races the purses reach $33,400, making $18,275 that is offered as prizes for horses.

FARM BOY CONTESTS

High Quality of Instruction Given at State Fair.

As an incentive and help to the boys of Indiana farms to make greater efforts in the agricultural calling, a number of contests, in which the prizes are very attractive, have been arranged by the state fair management, to be held at the exposition the week of September 12. Chief among them will be a judging contest for boys who have never attended an agricultural school, and five scholarships, worth a total of $500, in the Purdue School of Agriculture will go to the winners. The boys will pass on the merits of horses and cattle as the animals appear in the state fair coliseum, and they will also judge sheep, swine, corn and wheat. They will give their opinions on the same live stock and farm products that the regular judges of the fair pass on. This contest will be directed by Prof. G. I. Christie, of Purdue University, and farm boys who desire to participate should send their names to the secretary of the fair at Indianapolis by August 27.

Purdue University is doing a very extensive and practical education work at the state fair every year. Experts from this institution have charge of the fair's dairy building, and many lines of Purdue's work is exploited for fair visitors. By means of fruits, feeds, fertilizers, photos and charts the results of experiments are explained. A display of Indiana weed seeds and methods of eradication will be shown. In the dairy building, too, practical demonstrations of many kinds are given and numerous free lectures on farm topics are heard.

Old Soldiers at Indiana Fair.

The state fair will honor the memory of Gen. John Coburn on old soldiers' day at the exposition, September 13, when the veterans will be admitted free. The souvenir badges of the day will bear the portrait of Gen. Coburn, who was a member of the legislature which created the state fair in 1851. Gen. Coburn was born in Indianapolis in 1825 and throughout his life was identified with the city's civic development. He was graduated from Wash college in 1846, was admitted to the bar in 1850 and his election to the legislature in '51 was the first public office which he held. In 1858 he was elected a judge of the common pleas court. He organized the 33d Indiana regiment which was mustered in at Indianapolis on September 16, 1861, and about a month later he led the regiment in its first fight, at Wildcat, Ky., where Zollicoffer's forces were defeated. The regiment was in the fight at Cumberland Gap, saw much service under Gen. Rosecrans, and during the Atlanta campaign was almost constantly marching and fighting, and was in Sherman's left wing on the march to the sea. It was one of the best and most powerful regiments in the civil war.

An Oklahoma Plan.
 In some of the counties in Oklahoma where the roads are sandy, the plan has been adopted of improving them by cutting the prairie hay, which has a rank growth along the roadsides, and placing it on the roads. The plan is said to work very well and the roads are very satisfactory to the farmers in hauling their cotton, corn and other products to markets.

Milk For the Calf.
 A Pennsylvania dairyman reports that he kept a record of 80 calves, which consumed 12,000 quarts of milk, for which he received $481, or over four cents a quart and that the calves did the milking. He estimates that it takes 146 quarts of milk to make a calf four weeks old, which will weigh 160 pounds if they are Holstein blood.

A Good Plan.
 Some poultrymen have every alternate poultry yard each season planted in some vegetable crop, and only the droppings of the fowls are used for manure.

The Great Dairy Industry.
 The clean milk problem is a vital one, affecting the production and consumption of over 9,000,000,000 gallons in the United States per year, being an annual supply of over 100 gallons for every man, woman, and child in the country. This amount affords 1.1 quart per day for every individual, which includes the milk used in making butter and cheese. The actual amount of whole milk consumed each day averages about .65 of a pint for every individual. According to a Connecticut Station Bulletin the value of this product for a year at retail is the startling sum of $2,500,000,000. This is about one-fifth of the entire wealth of the nation, five times the wholesale value of last year's wheat crop, and over twice the value of the corn crop, and over one-third of the entire value of farm products for 1907, which is estimated at $7,400,000,000. The wholesale value of dairy products last year was estimated at $800,000,000, which would allow a price of less than ten cents a gallon for milk at the dairy. An average retail price of 7 cents a quart was assumed, which is probably a little below the average price.—New Orleans Picayune.

UNIVERSAL TRUCK MAKES RECORD ON SPEEDWAY

Heavy Duty Power Wagon Carries Four and One-Quarter Ton Load at 25.5 Miles an Hour

Carrying a load of four and one-quarter tons the Universal motor truck swept around the Speedway yesterday afternoon at an average speed of 25.5 miles an hour, establishing what is undoubtedly the most remarkable record ever made by a heavy duty power wagon. A crowd of 500 persons was present. The Newcastle motor concern selected the Model G five-ton truck to make the demonstration. This machine has the motors in the wheels and has no mechanical transmission. The initial power is developed by a six-cylinder gasoline engine which drives a generator or dynamo. The current is carried to the electric motors in the wheels themselves. In this manner all of the power is applied in the wheels and right on the ground without waste.

The total weight of the load of sand and gravel aggregated slightly more than four and one-quarter tons. The first two laps were made at better than twenty-three miles per hour and on the third time around the two-and-one-half mile course the truck came down the stretch with its burden in six minutes and twenty-eight seconds. The pilots of the big power wagons then put their machines through some manipulations that surprised the crowd. They turned completely around in a space thirty feet wide reversed and picked up speed forward in a manner that was startling.

The Universal engineers were satisfied with the demonstration and more than pleased with the Speedway as a place for testing motor cars of all descriptions. They expect to use the famous course frequently in the exploitation of the mammoth heavy duty Universal trucks. —Indianapolis Star.

Dry Lot Hog Rations.

The determination on the part of a great many farmers to feed nothing but farm grown crops upon the farm, is one that has made it extremely difficult to select rations suitable for fattening growing hogs in a dry lot, which are available and will meet with approval. Skim milk will serve this purpose as well, or possibly better, than any other farm product, but it rarely ever is available in sufficient quantities for extensive use in feeding hogs.

A Well Designed Farrowing-Pen.

The picture shows a view of the corner of a farrowing-pen. It is provided with a fender around the inside of the pen which keeps the sow from lying up against a partition and killing the young pigs, which a large sow will often do. The fenders should project at least eight inches into the pen and allow eight inches clear between the fender and the floor.

Improving the Pig.

A very small percentage of the hogs arriving on the Chicago market are pure-bred. This is due to so much cross breeding-beneficial, say buyers who have been long in the business on the Chinese market, as a mixing of the strains has resulted in a general improvement in the class of hogs arriving, from the standpoint of the slaughterer.

Care More Than Breed.

The feed and care of the colt is almost of as much importance as the breed. A pure bred colt can be ruined by neglect and a colt of fair grade stock can be made a clipper by the proper care. Care in other words is needed in raising any kind of a colt with profit.

The Scalding Temperature.

For scalding hogs have the water 180 degrees. Hotter or colder will not give the best results.

The horse is made or marred by his first year. Start him right, and keep him going right if you would make horse raising pay.

FALLING HAIR

Many People Have a Simple Way of Stopping It.

It was Dr. Sangerbond of Paris, who first discovered that dandruff and falling hair were caused by a microbe.

And now Parisian Sage, the remedy that kills the dandruff germ is sold in every town in America, the clean people of this country have awakened to the fact that dandruff is unnecessary; that falling hair and itching scalp can be quickly stopped, and that people who use Parisian Sage will never grow hair.

To every reader of the Daily Herald and Star-Democrat who wish to eradicate disgusting dandruff, stop falling hair, and have an immaculately clean scalp, free from itching, we make this offer:

We will return your money, without red tape, if Parisian Sage does not banish dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks.

Parisian Sage is sold by druggists everywhere, for 50 cents a large bottle. It is an ideal, daintily perfumed hair dressing, free from grease and stickiness, and will cause hair to grow lustrous and luxuriant. Sold and guaranteed by the Owl Drug store and the Red Cross Pharmacy. Mail orders filled, charges paid, by Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. Francis Koegl 41 W. Jesamine St., St. Paul, Minn., on Nov. 16, 1909, wrote: "I have used several hair tonics, but there is none that can compare with Parisian Sage. It cured my falling hair and dandruff, and it does not only cure those troubles, but is the best hair grower in the world."

Miss Edith Ash left on Sunday for Springfield, Ohio, where she will make her home with her brothers, Earl and Charlie.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Houck and Mrs. Lewis Zaring have returned from Chicago, where they attended the Knights Templar convocation, and visited Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown of that city. Mr. Brown formerly lived here, but for the past twenty years has made his home in Chicago.

CAMPAIGN NOW IN FULL BLAST

DEMOCRATIC SPEAKERS BUREAU OPEN AND ARRANGEMENTS FOR SPEAKING DATES BEING MADE.

W. J. BRYAN TO SPEAK

Indianapolis, Aug. 16.—The speakers' bureau was opened yesterday at Democratic State headquarters, with Bert Hendron, of Linton, in charge. With the inauguration of this work, every department of campaign activity is now in full blast.

In the last three weeks there have been countless inquiries from over the state concerning speakers, and many men of eloquence and ability in the Democratic ranks have already written to Mr. Hendron volunteering their service in the campaign. Thus the work of the speakers' bureau demanded immediate attention and Mr. Hendron was called in to assume his duties.

The speaking campaign among the Democrats will open between September 15 and 20. It has not been decided when or where, or who will fire the first gun. There will be no lack of oratorical material however and the people of Indiana are assured that the issues will be presented from the Democratic standpoint in an able and thorough manner.

Notable in the list of speakers already assured is William Jennings Bryan, who has accepted an invitation to speak in Indiana. His acceptance was received by Chairman Jackson and Mr. Hendron, who had a long talk with him at Rushville. Mr. Bryan has promised to give three days of his time to the Indiana speakers' campaign and is endeavoring to make it a week instead. He will speak during October, the dates, of course, not having been set. These will be determined when Mr. Bryan decided whether he can spend a week here.

Mr. Bryan is anxious for the success of Democracy in Indiana and is especially desirous of helping John W. Kern in his race for the United States Senate. Mr. Bryan will discuss only national issues in his speeches and will pay especial attention to the tariff commission, which he declares is a Republican subterfuge.

Among the other outside speakers will be Champ Clark, Senator Gore, John Sharpe Williams, Judge M. V. Shannon of Chicago, Samuel Gompers and General T. B. Weaver of Iowa. Many others will be added. Nearly every Indiana congressman has the promise of one or two Senators and Congressmen to come into Indiana during the campaign and one of Mr. Hendron's first duties will be to ascertain just when these speakers will be available. The Congressional Committee has also promised speakers.

The Democrats are fortunate in having so many able speakers on their state ticket. Every nominee is regarded as a good campaigner and able to present the issues on the stump. This material will be used to great advantage.

Mr. Kern, Governor Marshall and Senator Shively are regarded as sources of great strength in the speaking campaign. Because of their positions their utterances will carry unusual weight and interest in their speeches is expected to be intense. They are counted upon to draw big crowds wherever they speak.

It is believed that Robert J. Aleo, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, will be a big drawing card. He has the distinction of being the only Democrat on the state ticket seeking re-election.

Mr. Aleo's splendid record in office and the money he has saved to the people of Indiana, will undoubtedly make him popular. Others on the state ticket who are expected to give strength to the speaking campaign are Lew Ellingham of Decatur, candidate for Secretary of State; William H. O'Brien of Lawrenceburg, for Auditor; William H. Vollmer of Vincennes, for Treasurer; Thomas H. Honan of Seymour for Attorney-General; Thomas Broley of North Vernon for State Statistician; Edward Barrett of Plainfield for Geologist; Douglas Morris of Rushville for Judge of the Supreme Court, second district; C.

E. Cox of Indianapolis for Judge of the Supreme Court, third district; Joseph Ibach, Hammond. M. B. Lairy, Logansport and Andrew Adams, Columbia City, Judges of the Appellate Court, Northern district and M. B. Hottell, Salem, and E. W. Felt, Greenfield for Judges of the Appellate Court, Southern District.

The popularity of Samuel M. Ralston, of Lebanon, will make him much in demand during the campaign. Mr. Ralston is personally pleasing to his audiences and he is a convincing speaker. The same is true of the following who are expected to lend valuable assistance on the stump: John E. Lamb of Terre Haute; Major Menzies, Mt. Vernon; Lieut. Gov. F. P. Hall, Dan W. Simms, of Lafayette; James M. Robinson, former Congressman, of Ft. Wayne; L. Ert Slack, Franklin, the Rev. T. K. Kuhn, Richmond; M. E. Foley, Indianapolis; John W. Holtzman, Indianapolis; Walter Lotz, Richmond; R. W. Miers, former Congressman, of Bloomington; Col. C. C. Matson, Greencastle; Frank Hering, South Bend; Alvin Badgett, Washington; Jack Nolan, Evansville; M. A. Ryan, Indianapolis; Claude Bowers, Terre Haute; Ephraim Inman, Indianapolis; Cyrus E. Davis, Bloomfield; John W. Spencer, Evansville; Charles D. Hunt, Sullivan; W. H. Elchhorn, Bluffton; A. Riddle, Linton; Judge Shea, Seymour; C. Robinson, Spencer; Col. Charles Jewett, New Albany; Mr. Kent, Frankfort. The German voters will not be neglected, arrangements having been made for speeches in German by Louis Meyer, of Vincennes, and Frances Reinhard, of Rockport. In addition to Samuel Gompers there will be many other labor speakers and naturally, there will be dozens of other speakers added to those already named. This list is, of course, incomplete, and will be largely augmented. Beginning with the middle of September Mr. Hendron expects to have speakers in every community in the state until election day.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sidener, formerly of Greencastle, but now living in Oklahoma, are attending the Sidener family reunion at Crawfordsville this week. Mr. and Mrs. Sidener lived in Crawfordsville before coming to Greencastle.
